Why most question banks let students down

Most CPL/ATPL prep material is either a giant unsorted PDF or a paid app with a paywall on every chapter. Students end up re-reading the same 200 questions without ever knowing where their weak chapters really are.

The Flight Flare Aviation Exam Bank organises the entire CPL/ATPL syllabus into subjects and chapters, so a student can drill exactly the topic they're weak in — Radio Navigation, Air Navigation, Meteorology and more — instead of scrolling through everything.

What makes it different

- Built around real DGCA CPL/ATPL subjects — Air Navigation, Radio Navigation, Navigation Instrumentation, Meteorology and more being added continuously.
- Every chapter shows exactly how many questions it has and whether it's been attempted yet.
- Completely free to access — no login paywall standing between a student and the question bank.

1. Practice Mode or Test Mode — student's choice

Before every session, the student decides exactly how they want to study: unlimited practice with instant feedback, or a real timed test that mirrors exam conditions.

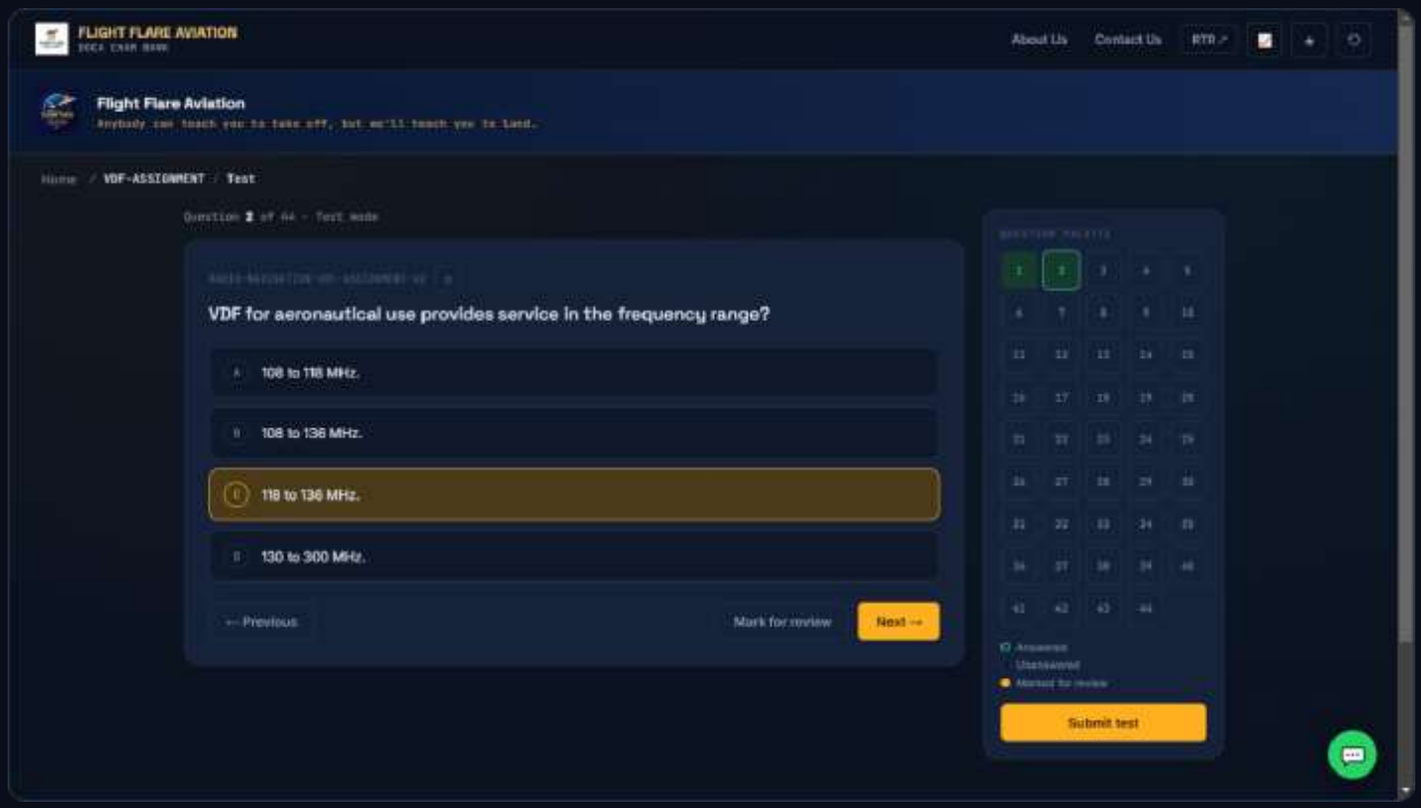

Session setup — choose mode, question count, shuffle and timer options

Includes

- Custom question count per session — do 3 questions or the entire chapter.
- Shuffle questions and shuffle options, so no two attempts look the same.
- Timer options — off, total time for the session, or per-question — to build real exam pacing.
- In Test mode, answers stay hidden until submission, exactly like the real CBT.

2. A Real CBT-Style Test Screen

Once a test starts, students get a question palette on the side — just like the real DGCA computer-based test — so they can jump between questions, mark items for review, and track what's answered at a glance.

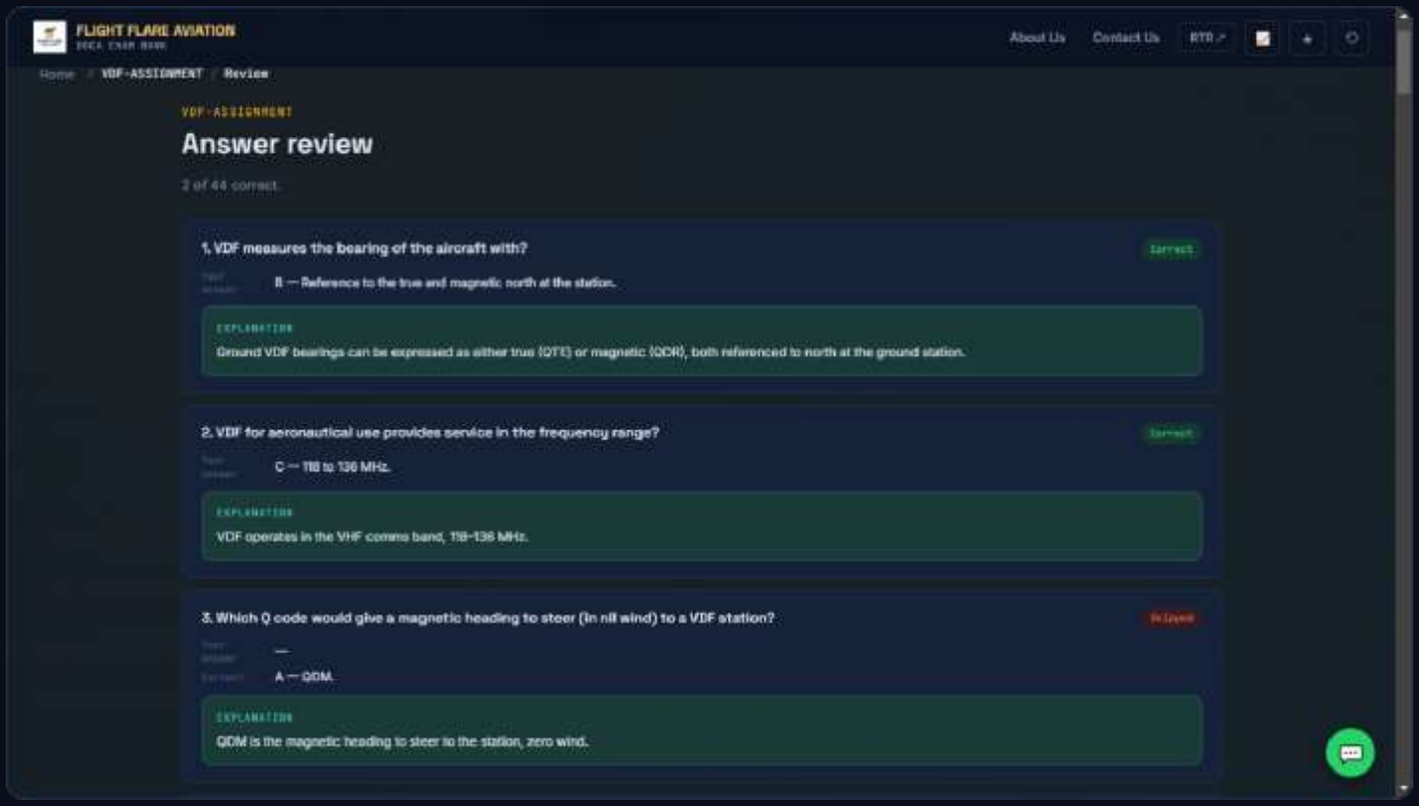

Test mode — question palette with answered / unanswered / marked-for-review status

Includes

- Full question palette showing every question number and its status.
- Mark for review, move forward or back freely, and submit whenever ready.
- Clean, distraction-free layout that keeps the focus on the question at hand.

3. Answer Review With Explanations

After every session, students see exactly what they got right, what they missed, and why — with a plain-language explanation under each question, not just a correct/incorrect tag.

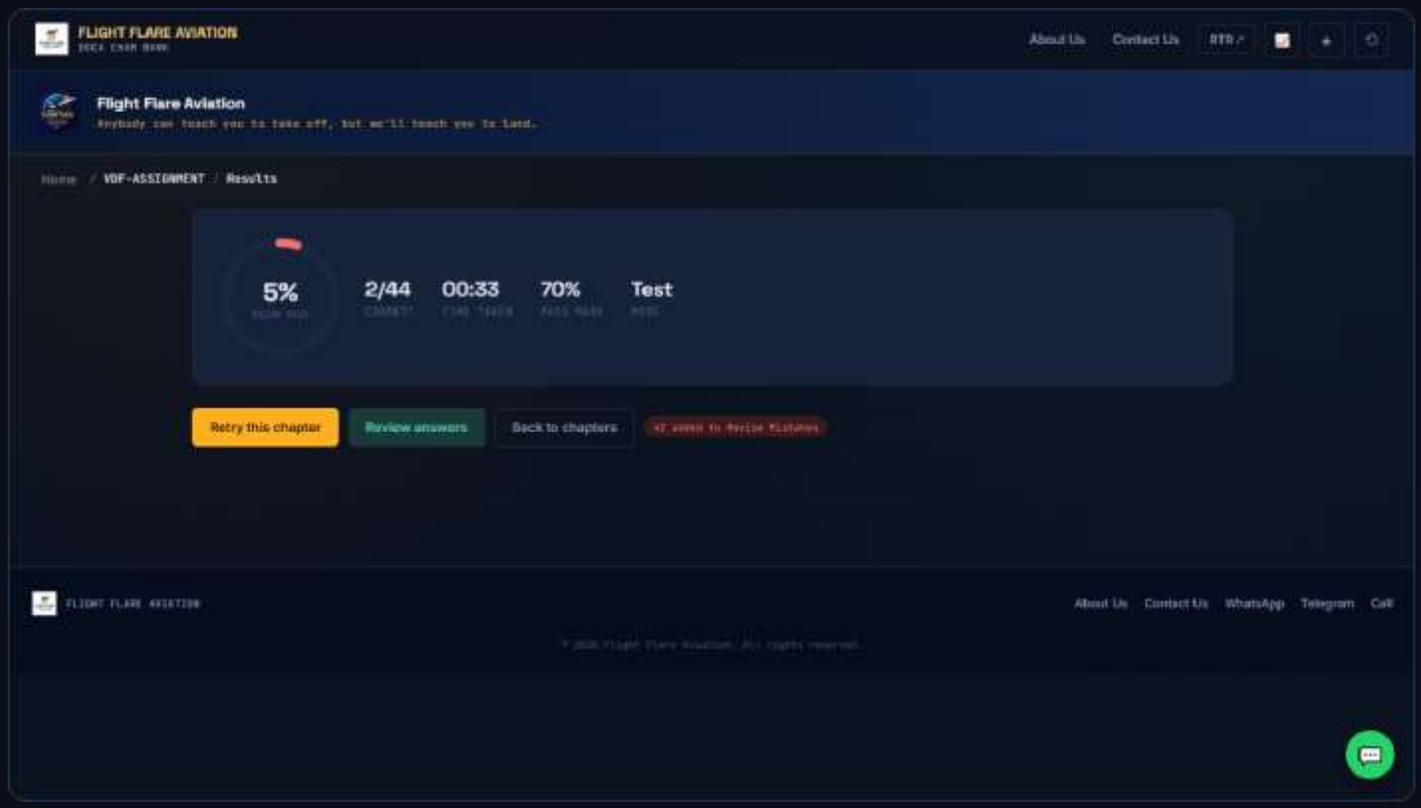

Answer review — correct answer, student's answer, and explanation for every question

Includes

- Question-by-question breakdown: your answer, correct answer, and result.
- A short explanation for every question, so mistakes turn into learning instead of just a wrong mark.
- Skipped questions are called out clearly, so nothing gets missed on review.

4. Results, Revise Mistakes & Progress Tracking

Every session ends with a clear scorecard — percentage, time taken, and pass mark comparison — and every wrong answer is automatically queued into a "Revise Mistakes" bank for focused re-practice.

Results screen — score, time taken, pass mark, and one-tap retry or review

Revise Mistakes

Every question answered wrong is saved automatically, so students can hammer their weak spots without hunting for them again.

Bookmarks

Save any question for later — useful for tricky items a student wants to revisit before the exam.

Progress Tracking

Accuracy broken down by chapter and subject, so a student always knows exactly where they stand.

Retry Anytime

Retry a chapter instantly from the results screen, or head back to chapters to pick the next one.

Bonus: Built-in links to Flight Flare's other tools

The Exam Bank isn't a standalone app — it's the front door to the full Flight Flare Aviation study ecosystem. Two subject cards link straight out to dedicated tools:

Radio Telephony ↗

Opens the dedicated DGCA RTR(A) Practice Simulator — voice-based RT drills, live mock exam layout, and full syllabus study notes for the Radio Telephony practical.

Cockpit Study ↗

Opens the Cockpit Study app — a dedicated flashcard, quiz and phonetic-drill tool for deeper subject revision alongside the main exam bank.
